What's New?

The Chambers bells still ring. The first floor of the 'Braire is still loud. You can still make your own waffles in the Commons. Self-Selection is still wild. Drop/Add is still a zoo. We still have only one reading day. Mrs. Archie in the Dean of Students office is still patient. Security still gives out parking tickets. We still sing Christmas carols in front of Chambers. The B & B is still the place to eat on Sunday.

But Davidson is also changing rapidly, and 1988-89 brought many new elements to the placid and still largely traditional college. The drive on I-77 revealed a plethora of new shops and restaurants off of the Cornelius exit. Students suddenly found a veritable bounty of new places to eat. Who ever thought we could get that excited over Kentucky Fried Chicken?

The switch to semesters produced both positive and negative effects. Relief: class every other day. Horror: four term papers in one week?

Seniors returned to campus in the fall set to inhabit the new apartments. Located between the soccer field and the golf course, these dorms feature suite-living for the first time in Davidson housing history. The new dorms weren't quite ready in August, so the seniors resided in faculty homes, the infirmary, the perimeter houses, and even the Holiday Inn.

What's New?

Students watched in awe as the Baker Sports Complex slowly rose, and cheered the Wildcats on to victory in Johnston Gym's last basketball game. Trustees made the controversial decision to move the football team to Division III and launched a $150 million endowment drive.

Service took on added emphasis with the success of the recycling campaign and Habitat for Humanity program as Davidson strove to address world concerns on a local level.

What's new? Well, a lot. 1988-89 was a year filled with changes and challenges.

Events

Artistic firsts highlighted this year's events. The newly formed Union Video Committee sponsored Davidson's first dramatic television series. A group of international students produced the Indian play Processions. The Artist Series brought its usual high caliber of music, drama, and dance. And, of course, the traditional big weekends of Homecoming, Midwinters, and Spring Frolics proved grand diversions from academic pursuits.

Meet NEW People

Who is this strange guy in front of the Union and why does he want to give me my first Davidson kiss?! No, this is not a dream — it's your first day as a freshman at Davidson! Freshman orientation by any standards is not a nightmare but a dream come true. Five days at a college with hundreds of new people to meet, no classes, and all expenses paid by your parents — what more could you want? To get the most out of these first few days, here's a few tips to help you get the most out of Orientation:

1) Don't let your parents interfere with your activities. Keep them occupied with "fixing up" your room — they get into that stuff and like meeting with other 'rents to exchange college stories.

2) Don't worry about losing at the "name game". Davidson people understand that you can't match 300 names and faces after one day. So don't hesitate to ask the cute girl at the toga mixer what her name is again.

3) Don't blow off the "official" activities like the Alcohol Policy meeting and the Honor Code lecture. It's important to understand the codes of conduct that guide Davidson students and make their experience special here.

4) Relax and don't be nervous. Davidson is a school that respects individuals and their independence, but if things get rough there's someone looking after you whether it's your roommate, your hall counselor, or your faculty advisor. You won't be a small fish lost in a big fishbowl.

Cocktail parties. Catching up with alumni friends. Homecoming weekend was blessed with warm, sunny weather — perfect for the afternoon football game. Whether or not we won or lost was not the issue (we lost), since the game was the year's preeminent social event. The Kappa Sigs cheered as their representative, Karen Dailey, was crowned the Homecoming Queen. The crowd milled around as older alumni marveled at the construction of the new sports complex, and younger alums related the trials, tribulations, and triumphs of "life in the real world."

Elsewhere on the campus, the harsher aspects to "life in the real world" were being described in detail. A rally sponsored by the Alumni Against Apartheid in conjunction with the Students Against Apartheid was held behind the Vail Commons. Various speakers urged Davidson to divest its holdings in South Africa.

Homecoming continued to unite the past and present Davidson community in both pleasant and serious activities.

The 'rents are coming! Clean the room, pretend you've been studying, and claim that the beer in the fridge belongs to the person across the hall. The warm Indian summer brought beautiful weather for parents' weekend as students strolled the campus with Mom and Dad. Sleepy seniors donned their caps and gowns for the first time and filed into Love Auditorium. The highlight of Fall Convocation was the president of Middlebury's entertaining keynote speech.

Brunches and picnics abounded following the ceremony. Several groups of seniors hosted cocktail parties for family, faculty, and friends. Since two out of the three senior apartments were still under construction, Charlie Winn, Rufus Timberlake, Harrison Murray, and Frank Whitaker graciously offered their "House Beautiful" as a demonstration model, and the still homeless seniors trooped in to show their parents the marvels of the new dorms.

All in all, everything turned out okay. The Convocation ceremony wasn't deady dull after all, and as for the 'rents, well . . . it was pretty good to see them too.

Workshop PLAY Musical

perience is not required. All of our productions are top quality and well received by the student body and community.

This school year was particularly good for Davidson theater. Along with Dr. Bill Lawing of the Music department, Dr. Alex Pinkston staged Leonard Bernstein's Wonderful Town, the first musical to be performed by Davidson students in ten years. To accommodate the new semester system, Dr. Rupert Barber established the tradition of the Winter Major Workshop Production. Barber's Sorrows of Stephen inaugurated this tradition as an intimate full-length production staged in the make-shift theater workshop.

Sponsored by the Davidson Theater department, Dipankar Mukherjee successfully staged

Badal Sircar's The Procession, an adaptation of an Indian play performed with an entirely South Asian cast. Furthering this international awareness through dramatic communication, the Theater Studio class produced and acted in Food for Thought, a culturally enlightening and intimate show performed in the workshop.

These new theater experiences did not overshadow the traditional fall production, 1918, or the various student-directed one-acts. On the contrary, all that Davidson had to offer this year refreshed the interest of students, faculty, and community theater supporters.

— Donna Peters

The Davidson College Theater department is relatively small, but the participation is tremendous. Over 200 students participated in the theater productions during this 1988-89 school year. In addition to acting, technical crews, stage crews, and costume and prop committees make up the various ways in which students help get a show off the ground. The inviting aspect of Davidson theater is that previous ex-

Video NEW Premiere

Early in the 1988-89 school year, Diana Titus-Allen approached seniors Melissa Dilettuso and Margaret Hancock with the idea of developing an original video series based on the lives of Davidson students. In the fall of 1988, Dilettuso began work on the story-line that eventually became the pilot script for Between Extremes. The six central characters are recent Davidson College graduates who have decided to remain in the Charlotte area and live together before moving in separate directions. Although the characters are no longer a part of Davidson, they still hold on to the safety net of having the same friends and living in the same area. The problems they face, however, are different. They are the problems of attaining jobs, developing new relationships, losing touch with old relationships, and paying the bills.

Dilettuso and Hancock continued to work on the project throughout the winter. The director Hancock held auditions in January, and the show was finally under way. Throughout the next month, Hancock scheduled rehearsals and mock shoots, while familiarizing her actors with their characters. Meanwhile, as the producer, Dilettuso focused on securing shooting locations, attaining air time on Central Piedmont Community College's cable television station, and training an efficient production crew. Dilettuso and Hancock immersed themselves for the next 9 weeks in filming and editing Between Extremes. During this time, they were fortunate to have a dedicated, talented and accommodation cast and crew. Everyone devoted much of their free time to work with the production.

The Between Extremes project was developed and executed entirely by Davidson students. Hopefully the dramatic series will be continued next year.

Due to the diligence of numerous sponsoring campus groups everyone could nearly always hear a speaker of interest or attend a concert suited to his or her individual taste. Most small concerts were performed in the 900 Room and ranged from Jazz Ensembles to country & western to folk "guitar and philosophy" to rock. The Union Intimate Performances and Chamber Music committees worked in conjunction with the 900 Room Committee to facilitate these musical events. Over in Cunningham Hodson Hall echoed with countless recitals and ensemble presentations. In the fall students and members of the Davidson community thronged the halls of Chambers to attend Wynton Marsalis's jazz concert in Love Auditorium.

The speakers that visited the Davidson campus were even more diverse. Faculty departments offered students an opportunity to hear guest lecturers in their respective fields, and the Dean Rusk Center for International Studies maintained its high quality of international speakers. The Union-sponsored Open Lunches enabled people to grab a quick bite to eat and hear informative and entertaining talks and discussions from both guest speakers and members of the Davidson community.

With such offerings it should be impossible for anyone to complain that there was nothing going on.

Carolers SEE Crash

"Oh no . . . we have exams in December! Christmas won't be any fun." Such was the general consensus of students returning from Thanksgiving holidays. Instead of the usual three week debauchery that preceded Christmas break during the term system, we were actually expected to be serious about studying.

But all was not lost. The plethora of December late-nites was gone, but the Union and Patterson Court managed to host their fair share of events. Self-Selection lived things up a bit (Rusk was in danger of caving in once again), and Christmas dances, cookie-decorating, and tree trimming abounded. BCPC was packed for vespers, and the crowd watching "Peanuts' Christmas" and "The Grinch" jammed the 900 room.

The season's hit, however, had to have been the candle-light carols in front of Chambers. Warmed by hot cider and basking in the glow of candles, the crowd swelled to unheard-of proportions as the circle of singing students expanded. It didn't really seem to matter that "O Come All Ye Faithful" was dreadfully off-key. Santa appeared on the roof of Chambers and descended to the lawn to circle the crowd in the "reindeer Cushman". Unfortunately the Cushman driver, elf and Union Vice-President Frank Whitaker, was blinded by the spotlight, and the crowd watched, amused and aghast, as the "reindeer" hit a lamp-post and almost tossed Santa.

Christmas proved to be a wonderful way to relieve exam tension. Oh . . . better luck next year Santa.

F.A.C.

Davidson in the winter. Gloom, mid-terms, despair. But wait! There is a bright spot during those dismal January days. Midwinters brought needed life to the campus with its mix of parties and F.A.C.s.

Patterson Court held its usual revels while up at the Union the weekend began with a 900 Room F.A.C. featuring various campus bands. Students listened to Piecemeal; Frank, Greg, & Andy; IRBS; and Mountain Dew while Spades games abounded.

Saturday afternoon found students crowding into the Commons to hear that perennial Davidson favorite Speidel, Goodrich, Goggin, & Lilly. This performance marked the return of Goggin to the group after an absence of three years. The crowd danced, sang, and gorged itself on the Mexican Buffet sponsored by the Union.

Midwinters was over all too soon. Winter's gloom descended once again, but students rejuvenated by the weekend's festivities somehow found the strength to survive until spring.

Music SONG Dance

For over fifty years, students, faculty, and staff members have invested time and energy in hopes of bringing the very best entertainment to Davidson. In the mid-1930s, a series featuring visiting musicians was begun by the music department. Around this time, the Dean of Faculty's office also formed a speakers' series. In 1952, the two series merged, and faculty members maintained responsibility for administration and production of events. Students began to play an active role in the 1974 season, and in 1975, student leaders in the new college union accepted primary responsibility for the Artists Series. Their tasks included ticket sales, set up and breakdown of shows, and hosting of events.

The events in today's Artists' Series are chosen by a committee of faculty, staff, and students; this committee is led by the Student Co-Curricular Vice-President of the Union. The Artists' Series has become a training-ground for student administrators, as well as a driving force in the development of an arts agenda in the community.

The 1988-89 Series hosted the North Carolina Shakespeare Festival for a September 28th production of Macbeth, as well as the Oberlin Dance Company on February 1st. The Chestnut Brass Company arrived on November 9th, bringing an array of instruments which dated from 1600 to 1900. Finally, America's premier male vocal ensemble, Chanticleer, performed on March 1st, bringing former music professor and choir director Frank Albinder back to the Davidson campus. Their program included the traditional early music of the 15th and 16th centuries, as well as pop and avant-garde pieces.

Balmy weather fostered the usual spring fever among Davidson students, and Spring Frolics proved to be an excellent outlet for springtime merry-making. An outdoor Union FAC kicked things off with a performance by the International Rhythm and Blues Band (IRBS). Out on the football field students relaxed to the sounds of the Medicine Men, and touch football games, frisbee-throwing, and hackysack players abounded.

Saturday the festivities continued with John Bayley's reggae music out behind the Commons. The semi-formal International ball was held in the 900 Room Saturday night and was followed by a free breakfast at 1 a.m.

Given the food, the music, and of course, the fun, it was difficult not to have spring fever.

Glad SAD Gone

It didn't rain. Not that anyone thought it would considering that an outdoor graduation had not been rained out in years, but of course there was always that possibility. The weekend dawned bright and sunny as seniors raced to their P.O. boxes and tore open the letters verifying that they had indeed met the requirements for graduation. Sighs of relief were heard as the Class of '89 realized that they could face parents, grandparents, siblings, aunts, uncles, cousins, in-laws, and family pets with a clear conscience.

How to describe the Baccalaureate service? Hot. Hot for the late-comers (arriving a mere one hour before the sermon) forced to sit on folding chairs outside of DCPC. Hotter still for those sitting inside the packed, un-airconditioned church. Following the sermon by a professor emeritus of systematic theology at Union Theological seminary, seniors and guests attended an outdoor dinner behind the Vail Commons. The Kuykendalls received parents on the front lawn of the President's house.

Later in the evening faculty departments held receptions of their own enabling seniors to introduce their parents to favorite professors.

THE morning had arrived. Seniors frantically tried to get those dam caps to stay on their heads, parents frantically raced to the comptroller's office to pay their children's library fines so they could graduate, and Dr. Ross frantically tried to line up the seniors in proper order. Everyone calmed as the processional began, and, preceded by the faculty, the class of '89 filed out of Chambers. Seniors walked between the row of faculty (running the gauntlet perhaps?) to their seats. Much to the relief of all, Davidson continued its tradition of not having a commencement speaker. Tim Poston received the Algeron Sydney Sullivan award and Susan Parks and Fred Wenzel were graduated summa cum laude.

Caps flew and tears mingled with laughter as seniors, friends, parents, faculty, and administration milled about following the ceremony.

Organizations

Campus organizations continued to play a vital role in the Davidson community. The Y.S.S.C. had great success with its service programs and insured that Davidson students played an active role in the life of the town. From Davidson Outdoors to Open Luncheons to Cinema Classics to chamber music, the Student Union offered something for everyone. Musical ensembles, literary societies, and the Dance Troupe offered a bit of culture. And, of course, the Honor Council kept us all well-behaved.

The Union

Fun, phun, phun, busy, busy, busy — Davidson College '88-'89. Could the campus have been more royally entertained? (That was a rhetorical question; the answer of course being "no.") I often wonder what the campus would have done without frivolous FACs, outrageous Open Luncheons, hip Homecoming festivities, and crazy concerts: including the Bodacious Bodeans, wicked Wynton Marsalis, and sentimental S.G.G.&L. The mind boggled at the vivacious videos, pervasive publicity and crashing Cushmans. (Does this alliteration scheme seem trite to you ... it does to us too but we are not going to stop now). There were spectacular speeches, driving and developing Davidson outdoors programs, budding "Between Extremes," innovative Intimate Performances, illuminating International events, charming chamber music, fantastic films. Somebody pinch me ... the madness eventually had to stop.

“Could the campus have been more royally entertained?”

Union '89-'90 . . . the Madness Continues

The Union Board of 1989-90 began with a huge explosion of activities and enlightenment. Despite rather nasty weather, Spring Frolics drew huge crowds to "Roger Rabbit," the International Ball, a late night breakfast, the Kudzu classic, and lots of free food. Breaking new ground, the cultural events committee organized a bluegrass chili cook-off that promises to be a yearly event. Women's month celebrated fifteen years of women at Davidson with such well known speakers as Candace Flynt. With membership from every eating house, the Union Board seeks to create campus programming where anyone is welcome no matter what letters they wear on their shirt.

"If you weren't there, you were probably somewhere else."

Next year look for more huge weekend extravaganzas, everyday entertainment and enlightenment. The Davidson College Union: if you weren't there, you were probably somewhere else.

The Student Government Association accomplished many things this year. Modifications such as improvements to the telephone system, emergency phones in satellite parking lot, and better lighting behind the 24-hour study room and around the grounds where some of the results of the ideas put to use. Price studies became a major project, as well as gathering information on the possibility of Cable television for Patterson Court Houses, Apartments, and dormitory lounges.

Forums became a popular way to find out the various views of the students, faculty, and others. During the open 11:00 hours, the SGA sponsored forums on campus issues. One popular topic concerned the allowance of weeknight parties on Patterson

Court. A leadership seminar was conducted in mid-February featuring speakers from the Charlotte Homets, the Student Counseling Center, and other organizations. The SGA also contributed outside the community by holding leadership training for the SGA at Kennedy Middle School.

By keeping in contact with the Board of Trustees and meeting to identify campus issues, the Student Government Association proved to be well informed and very productive.

Davidson Service Projects

... getting people involved

This year Davidson College affiliated officially with two very special community projects dealing with widespread concerns on a local level. Habitat for Humanity provides affordable low income housing for those who need it. Habitat has two different but interdependent goals: to build homes at low cost for members of the community living in unsatisfactory housing, and to build a sense of community as people work together on these homes. Students joined college faculty, staff and administrators as well as community members to complete one home and bring a second to near-completion in this project's first year.

Another project which involved many areas of college life was the campus-wide recycling effort.

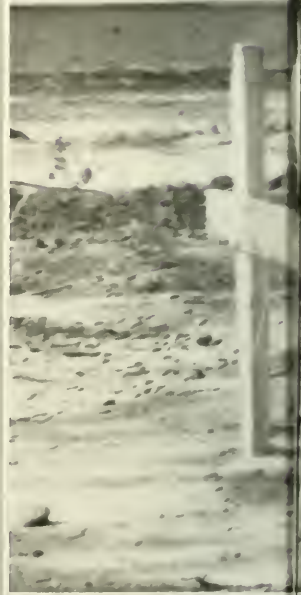

By spring finals, however, due to diligent efforts of staff, students, and faculty, Davidson College had a large project underway. Run almost completely on volunteer effort, newspapers, aluminum, glass, and plastic were recycled from eight dorms and the College Union. Office paper was collected weekly from Chambers and other campus office buildings.

"Thanksgiving brought to mind concerns of hunger issues around the world."

Thanksgiving brought to mind concerns of hunger issues around the world. Once again faculty joined students and administrators to devise a way to symbolically remember those around the world and in Mecklenburg County who suffer from insufficient nutrition. They encouraged everyone to fast for a day and join fast-breakers for a Post-Fast Meal sponsored by the Commons Dining Service. Donations were accepted for Oxfam-America and the Metrolina Food Bank. Members of the Davidson community take part in a myriad of service projects whether through groups or individually. Hopefully this tradition will continue to grow.

— Caroline Craig

Y.S.S.C. = Service

The Y Student Service Corps is the main campus service organization. It coordinates and funds campus programs facing problems from adult illiteracy to hunger. Excluding the Recycling Committee, all programs directly involve people outside the college community, including prisoners in Huntersville and Charlotte inner-city youth. Habitat for Humanity involves the largest number of volunteers, and with work beginning this spring on a third house, should continue to require the help of many students and faculty.

Presently the YSSC supports fourteen programs each needing volunteers with different talents and time commitments. The goal for 1989 is to improve, strengthen, and increase YSSC publicity, making it easier for the student to get involved.

Quips and Cranks

Undaunted by an office filled with cobwebs and crates of old yearbooks, the 1988-89 Quips and Cranks staff valiantly struggled to master a new computer and GET THOSE PAGES DONE.

Intrepid business managers Craig Carlock and Doug Polak cheerfully stuffed 1500 envelopes with patron letters and gleefully waited as the money rolled in. The staff watched, horrified as the photographers arrived to take class pictures replete with tie-dye backgrounds and wrought-iron chairs. Sunday night meetings turned into one-liner feasts as the unprintable senior candids were passed around.

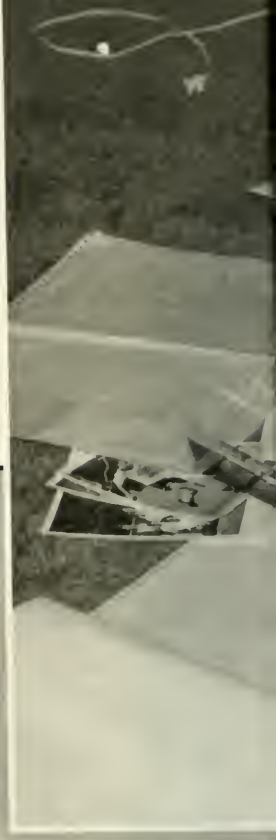

Betsy Boyd tackled the job of Organizations section editor. (What do these people do? Where do they meet?). Sports editor Kathy Beach became close friends with the Sports Information office. Liz Yarema and Julie Dixon patiently coped with senior candids, class pages, and Patterson Court historians.

Resident Autocopy genius, a.k.a. copy editor Alison Chapman, tamed the unruly computer while Lori Rockett employed her considerable graphic skills to design the "perfect" layout. And through it all photo editors Chuck Crews and Lucy Siler stoically endured last-minute assignments, dark-room failures, and impatient editors.

Since the staff consisted primarily of freshmen and sophomores, Quips and Cranks should have a strong foundation for next year. And they won't have to find a home for those darn crates.

Wildcat Handbook

"Please, please, please send me your picture!"

Once a prospective has chosen to come to Davidson, he or she is constantly bombarded with "More Stuff from Davidson." Included in the first batch is a plea from the Wildcat Handbook staff for pictures.

At this point the work is almost done. Starting at the Fall Activities Fair, freshmen had the opportunity to sign up and become staff members. After this the staff formed and began selling ads. Then requests went out to organization presidents and chairmen to write articles detailing their activities. By the end of the school year these articles are combined along with freshmen pictures, hall counselor pictures, and ads to create the freshmen's guide to success.

After receiving their handbooks in early August, freshmen study them and find out about all the happenings and activities that go on. By the time they arrive on campus, they know more than most upperclassmen. Freshmen also find it useful for learning names and faces of their fellow class members.

Not only do freshmen benefit from the wisdom provided in its pages, but upperclassmen often go back to their handbooks for useful information and to reminisce about the freshmen days of long ago.

— Lori Rockett

The Davidsonian

This year The Davidsonian had a full plate, from the football controversy which dominated the fall to the spring condom issue. On top of everything, the newspaper celebrated its 75th birthday on April 1.

Football erupted in November as the trustee athletic committee voted to send the program to Division III. A massive lobbying campaign by those associated with the football program kept Davidsonian reporters very busy. A petition posted around campus by the AIDS Action Committee proposing that the college provide condoms to students produced a huge reaction on the editorial pages of the paper. Publishing went smoothly except for the disappearance of one of the newspaper's two computers at the beginning of spring term, but even that loss kept the antiquated Mergenthaler typesetter safely banished to the depths of the Union, and we look forward to next year.

Hobart Park

In 1987, Tyler Smith and Mike Jarmon revived the college's arts magazine Hobart Park. They edited the 1988 magazine, and this year Smith and Jim Dillon edited the 1989 edition.

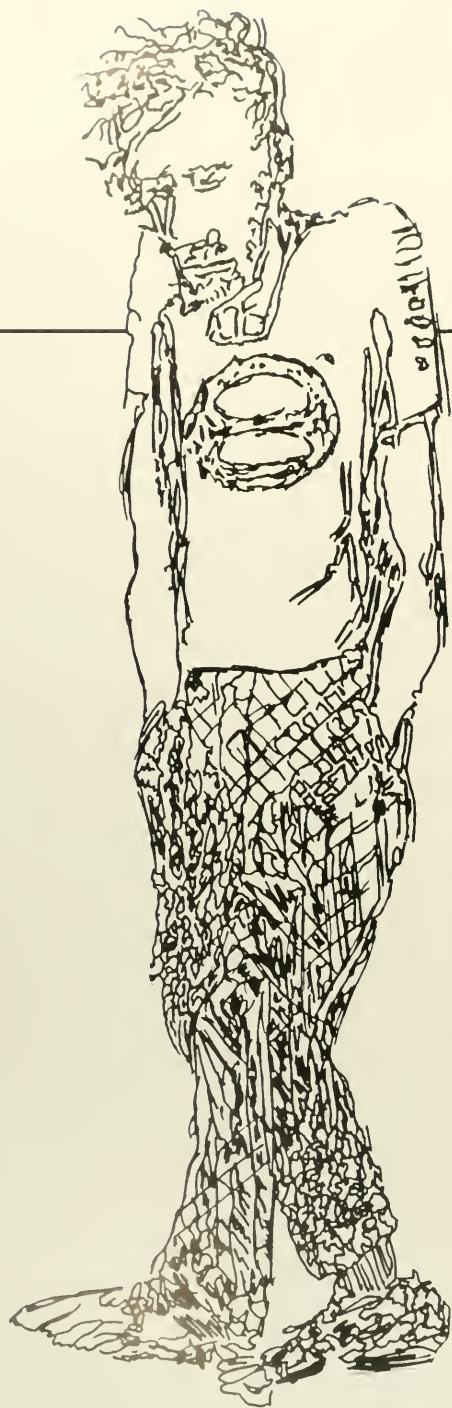

A staff of about twenty students advertised for submissions, hoping to gain poetry, prose and art work from a diverse segment of the student body. More submissions were received this year than ever, and the entire staff met for approximately two weeks to read all the manuscripts and rate them. Art work was especially sought after, and Hobart Park consequently contained more art than ever. Dillon and Smith say they think Hobart Park is the best its ever been, and they hope the changes will continue.

W.A.L.T.

In the fall of 1987 a small group of students headed by Kevin Dunn, Frank Lord, and Tyler Smith began work on a new student radio station. Drew Henderson gave us a name — W.A.L.T. and the SGA gave us a charter. By the end of the school year, when the Activities Tax Council granted a budget for the '88-'89 school year, we thought we were set to begin the work that would allow us to start broadcasting early in the fall of '88 on A.M. through a carrier current carried in the up-hill dorms and the Union.

Upon returning in the fall, a staff of nearly seventy people was organized, and the tire-some tasks of acquiring and preparing equipment were begun. We thought that those were minor tasks until we encountered two small words that the W.A.L.T. staff would soon learn to dread: "mechanical failure.”

“W.A.L.T. began its broadcast life with Chuck Berry's 'Roll Over Beethoven.'”

Mack Wiley, our engineer, worked tirelessly to fix the jungle of shorted-out wires and the almost endless series of blown tubes that he encountered while setting up the broadcast room. But the effort still took several months. Start-up dates were repeatedly extended as new and different problems kept appearing.

Finally on April 12th, W.A.L.T. began its broadcast life with Chuck Berry's "Roll Over Beethoven." The student body's enthusiastic reception of the station seems to indicate that it has a bright future ahead of it.

D.E.R.S.

The Davidson Emergency Rescue Service has protected the Davidson College campus since 1977. Two state-certified Emergency Medical Technicians and a trainee are on call twenty-four hours a day throughout the school year. DERS members respond to a wide variety of calls throughout the school year, from serious medical injuries to minor injuries. They are dispatched through the infirmary — usually at some ungodly hour of the night — managing to shake the sleep from their eyes, run across campus to the site of the call and deal with whatever greets them.

The Emergency Medical Technician training consists of a course over a hundred and twenty hours long covering topics ranging from asthma attacks to gunshots to childbirth. The need for childbirth expertise was, thankfully, lacking this year at Davidson, but one never knows when it might be needed.

DERS members have noted a change in the character and frequency of calls over the last several years. Two years ago, the typical call was an injured intoxicated person (hands through windows were quite popular), most patients were freshmen, and rarely did a weekend go by without a call. This year, the calls that DERS has had have been more on the medical side (appendicitis, fainting, etc.), and few freshmen have been involved. Perhaps the changing nature of Davidson has brought in less violent souls; perhaps it is just coincidence. Either way, DERS members are currently getting significantly more sleep.

The Human Resources Committee

Celebrating its first year, the Human Resources Committee has dedicated its efforts toward raising awareness and education in areas of student health and sexuality. A group of concerned students, the committee addresses topics pertinent to student well-being. This winter, the committee, in conjunction with the Dean of Students Office and the AIDS task force, presented Dr. Richard Keeling, president of the American College Health Association and renowned AIDS researcher, who spoke on "AIDS and the College Student." An outgrowth of Davidson Rape Crisis, Human Resources helped sponsor a speaker on acquaintance rape and distributed booklets on the subject. The Human Resources Committee has been involved in proposals to provide an on-campus means for students to purchase condoms as a health and safety measure. Other activities include a "Dating at Davidson: open forum and a speaker on sexual harassment. Next year, the Committee hopes to expand its members and activities and continue its goal of providing health information for students.

Amnesty International

... keeping the campus aware

1988-89 was Davidson Amnesty International's biggest year yet. Folks came in record numbers, motivated by deep-seated convictions and meetings that lasted only twenty minutes. In addition to writing appeals on behalf of "Prisoners of Conscience" throughout the world, Davidson College Amnesty International held a Human Rights Day, complete with information tables, movies, and handcuffed students, and put on the second annual Human Rights Concert in the spring.

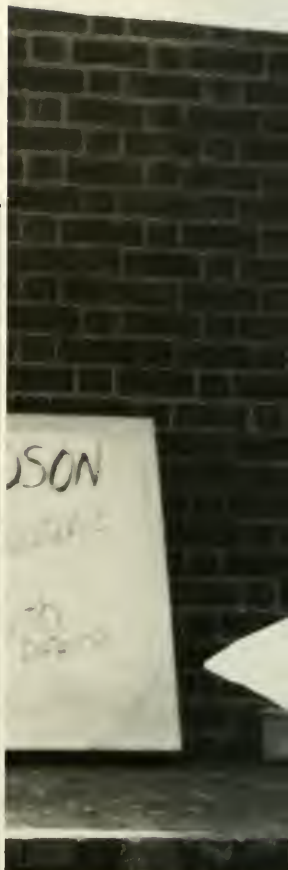

It was exciting to see new people coming and writing (as well as active faculty participafounder of Amnesty at Davidson, back to campus for a visit. We even had a peaceful transfer of power, and with Judd and Kathy's enthusiasm, Amnesty at Davidson will boldly carry human rights into the 90's. Y'all come back now, hear?

Intervarsity

1988-89 was one of Davidson Intersivity's best years ever. Intersivity Christian Fellowship sponsored both service projects and social events in addition to its weekly large group meetings and small group Bible studies. Some of the year's highlights included participation in Awareness Weekend in Charlotte, a worship service at the Pines, the Amy Grant concert, talent night, and a pizza party at Giorgio's. With skits, games, music, and weekend retreats students had fun while growing in Christian faith.

Catholic Campus Ministry

Every Sunday you can find Davidson's Catholic congregation gathered in DCPC's Lingle Chapel for its 6:30 evening service. Led by Father Andrew Novotney from St. Therese's in Mooresville, the community joins its voices for worship. Individuals share their musical skills in the folk group. They also serve as readers during the service and as lay eucharistic ministers during communion. As a community students meet to worship and occasionally to indulge in Father Novotney's famous spaghetti when he offers his culinary services to his flock.

Dance Troupe

Meeting once a week at the BSC house, the Davidson dance troupe choreographed and practiced all kinds of dances — ballet, jazz, and modern. The annual spring performance in Hodson Hall was packed with students, professors, and community members who enjoyed the Troupe's pleasing array of classical and modern dance styles. The Dance Troupe's other main activities of 1988-89 included teaching the Girl Scouts of Davidson and participating in Town Day. Director Elisabeth Schwalbe feels that the Dance Troupe is an excellent way for both veteran and less experienced dancers to continue this hobby and enjoy themselves. She remarks, "It is so much fun to create a dance and have your friends perform it. When the public appreciates it, it is even more of a thrill."

The Davidson Concert Choir

... tours the East Coast

With the return of Mary Nell Saunders to the college frontier, the Davidson Concert choir had a very successful year. In the fall the ensemble performed at Convocation, while continuing preparations for our annual Christmas Vespers concert. The hour and a half long concert played to a packed DCPC. Additional performances this spring included Covenant Presbyterian Church in Charlotte, First Presbyterian in Statesville, and Spring Convocation.

Our spring tour took us to the Big Apple, by way of Maryland and New Jersey. On the return trip, we performed at such hotspots as Staunton, Virginia (where we partied with the Mary Baldwin College girls with the "great" calves), and Lumberton, N.C.(thanks, Mebl), culminating in our home concert in Davidson. Our own barbershop quartet, the "Lamplighters," ever-seeking the spotlight, gladly preformed at each concert (even when they were not supposed to!).

The season concluded with performances at Baccalaureate, the Commencement Concert, and Graduation. We are excited that Dr. Saunders and her enthusiasm will be back with us again next year.

Instrumental Ensembles

... not just blowing hot air

Under the fearless command of Doc, the fall saw the Davidson instrumental groups perform often. The wind ensemble gave a concert and performed as an orchestra in conjunction with the strings. And, of course, the legendary jazz band performances continued in the 900 Room. Pep band livened up the football and basketball seasons and performed during the last game in Johnston gym.

Also included among the ensemble groups, the Davidson Brass Quintet, started in 1985, continued to be a student-run success. This year's group had played together for over two and a half years and performed throughout the Southeast. Most of the performances

"The Highlight of our year was probably a free airplane ride and weekend in Florida" were for church services, private dinners, weddings, or festivals. The highlight of our year was probably a free airplane ride and fun-filled weekend in Florida after an invitation from Calvin's mom to play at their church. Unfortunately this group is 75% seniors — so look for some new faces next year.

The spring was exciting for the instrumentalists because of a tour "down south" to Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, the rainy jazz performances (and entertainment from the trumpet players and their musical hats), and the musical Wonderful Town.

College Republicans

With the elections this past year, College Republicans were in force with a record number of students joining the club. In addition to regular meetings, the College Republicans made road trips to Winston Salem to see George Bush and to UNCC to see Dan Quayle. College Republicans also ate dinner with Congressman Alex McMillan, saw Governor Jim Martin, attended the Mallard Creek Bar-b-que, distributed campaign literature, and posted a CR bulletin board. Some members even traveled to Washington to party at the Inauguration and the CPAC convention. In addition to their many outings, College Republicans invited several speakers for campus-wide presentations.

Honor Council

The Honor System fosters an environment that allows members of the Davidson College community the opportunity to explore the virtues of integrity and honesty. Like education, integrity is a lifelong pursuit that must be thought about, acted upon and tested. The Honor Council members are elected by their peers and include representatives of each class. The 1988-89 council was chaired by Molly Cochran. Bob Van Kirk was the secretary. Members included sophomores Bob Hornsby, Minnie Iwamoto, and Ellen Ott, Michael Roach, Betsy Bryan, Charles Jordan, D.J. Snell, Thad Stidham, and Chip Allen represented the junior class. Senior members were Bill Sutton, Craig Carlock, John Cock, John Reel, David Ray, Ken Jones, and Kat Huster.

Philanthropic Society

The 1989 Philanthropic Literary Society had its meetings at 9:00 on Sunday evenings, as usual for the past 150 years, and had fun, which was also no news. Events included Dr. Julie Gibert's talk on British Feminism and Dr. Tony Abbott's reading of one of his short stories and talk about writing.

The entire year of special programs showcasing specific topics in literature and the humanities was absolutely uneventful, and we expect next year to be the same as our membership increases and we continue to provide, in the words of Bill Giduz, a place where "good-natured intellectualism" can thrive.

Eumenean Society

The Eumenean society of Davidson College is the oldest of the two campus literary societies founded in the same year as the college. In the last century, these societies were the dominant student organizations. Eu Society's most famous members are Woodrow Wilson and Peter Stuart (i.e. Marshall Ney?). Many of the things which characterize student life at Davidson are products of these organizations, e.g. the SGA, honor system, and the bulk of our original (i.e. 19th century) library.

The coming of varsity athletics, fraternities, and a lack of interest in a social life based on oration and literature diminished membership, but the societies still exist today. The Eumenean Society continues many of its earliest traditions. These traditions characterize the format of our meetings which consist of debate, having guest speakers, and reading literature of all sorts. These meetings are informal and provide an opportunity for a pleasant one hour study break every other Sunday evening. Our society gives students the opportunity to participate in Davidson's oldest student tradition in a fun and relaxing atmosphere.

R.O.T.C. Excels

... as the Army's future

Davidson's Army ROTC program enjoyed another successful and exciting year of promoting "leadership, scholarship, and excellence" among participating cadets. The program combined rigorous physical conditioning, crucial classroom instruction, and weekly practical training in the field to prepare today's students to be tomorrow's military leader.

The year began with the arrival of many cadets from different Army schools, camps, and training exercises which they attended over the summer. The seniors shared their experiences from six weeks of demanding training at Advanced Camp All-America, located at Fort Bragg, N. C., with the juniors who would be attending next summer. Many cadets also attended Airborne School, Air Assault School, Officer Basic Training, or CTLT. Senior Cadet Major Ray Harschbarger explained, "Through the CTLT program, I was placed in the position of a 2nd Lieutenant in the 1st Armor Division in Nuremberg, West Germany. Basically, I was in charge of a platoon of 30 men and about a million dollars worth of equipment and vehicles."

During the fall, cadets stayed busy with a variety of activities, including rappelling clinics, the fall Red Cross Blood Drive, and a white water rafting trip. The Ranger Challenge team practiced long hours in the areas of physical endurance and conditioning, orienteering, marksmanship, building and crossing a rope bridge, and other military skills. Headed by Senior Cadet Captain John Black and Sophomore Cadet PFC Michael Peters, this outstanding group of nine cadets placed 7th in the regional competition. Davidson ROTC also participated in the Fall Field Leadership Exercise with other schools in the Foothills Battallion, which gave cadets a feel for barracks life in the military.

Spring brought new challenges and excitement for all cadets, beginning with the annual Military Ball. The Ball was put on in full military splendor for all cadets and cadre, with their dates, from the Carolina Foothills BN. The special guest speaker, Brigadier General Floyd Walters, a Davidson graduate of 1962, and a performance by the 82nd Airborne Chorus, made this year's Military Ball a highlight of the spring. Other spring activities included the spring Red Cross Blood Drive, the Cadet Awards ceremony, the popular Dining In for the upperclassmen, and the Spring Field Leadership Exercise at Fort Jackson, S. C.

The training for the juniors intensified immensely in the spring as they began preparing for the challenges that awaited them at Advanced Camp, with a special emphasis on technical and tactful proficiency, physical conditioning, and leadership skills. The juniors stayed busy with leadership positions, field exercises, classroom and lab instruction, and physical training three times a week at 0700 hours (7:00 AM). The seniors, while remaining busy with the training for the underclassmen, were also receiving their branch assignments and preparing for their futures as Army officers. Seniors were assigned to various branches, including Infantry, Military Intelligence, Field Artillery, and the Medical Services Corps.

Perhaps the most amazing accomplishment of the Davidson ROTC cadets was their ability to remain active in campus activities, keep on top of their school work, and excel in the ROTC program. Congratulations to the continuing success of the Davidson ROTC program!

From Far Away . . .

Whether here for a semester, a year, or four years, Davidson's International students bring an element of cultural diversity to the campus. Ismat Husain, chairman of the International Committee, adopted the theme of "integration" between International and other Davidson students. The International Festival, International Ball, mixers, picnics, and Adoption by Patterson Court houses of International Students are a few of the activities the International Committee sponsored. Ismat hopes that International and American students will continue to be friends instead of being isolated from each other.

International Students were surprised by everything from the holes in our jeans ("People in my country would never wear jeans with so many holes unless he is a beggar . . ." remarked Ying Wu of China) to the importance of the weekend ("Everybody is eagerly waiting for it and they spend it partying and enjoying it fully . . ." according to Pankaj Talwar of India).

Vahe Gabrielyan and Sasha Konykh, both from the USSR, were a unique addition to this year's student body. Vahe didn't enjoy "being stampeded like a cattle animal when you want to go to a film, a party, or the like." He does like the honor code and the library, but the noisy parties on the weekends annoyed him. When asked what he would tell his friends at home, Sasha said "all Americans are crazy and like to ask stupid questions . . . O.K. it was a joke." Both agree, though, that the Davidson experience was worth their time away from home.

Prem Manjooran of India will never forget getting "Nortonized." Ying Wu appreciates the opportunity to learn another culture. Nusrat was amused that "my first day here, I met people who would say 'hi' to me as they went by; it took me a couple of days to realize that all the girls were just being 'Southern' and they didn't know me from someplace else."

Hopefully all the International students will leave with a favorable impression. Meanwhile, other Davidson students have been enriched by the international portion of the student body.

Patterson Court

Patterson Court continued its tradition as a lively student social and service outlet. Late-Nites, formals, date functions, and FAC's abounded along with day care visits, tutoring, and participation in Habitat for Humanity. Due to the semester switch self-selection fell in December, but the early date did not diminish the revelry. Efforts to promote campus unity led to several events sponsored jointly by the Union and Patterson Court.

The Black Student Coalition

The Black Student Coalition had a very successful year both socially and in terms of special events. Major events included an Alumni Career Workshop, two retreats to Little Switzerland, a trip to Atlanta for a conference on Black Students at Predominately White Campuses, the Martin Luther King Jr. Lecture Series, the International/BSC Semi-formal Ball, and various other parties and get-togethers.

The BSC has as its stated purpose "to establish and maintain a spirit of solidarity among the Black students of Davidson College" and the accomplishments of this year show that this goal was successfully met.

The future will see the BSC striving to increase its campus voice and becoming more active on issues which affect minority students at Davidson. Watch out because the BSC is just getting started!

Kappa Alpha

As usual, Kappa Alpha was extremely active in pursuits of service, social activity, athletics, and leadership this year at Davidson. Behind the leadership of John MacCauley, William Wahlheim, and Craig Carlock, 1988-89 was another successful year for KA.

KA led the way in service with the President of the YSSC, John Coleman. Many brothers took part in various other service projects, such as the Big Brother/Little Brother program; Habitat for Humanity, and this year's MD Disco, which surpassed last year in raising money for Muscular Dystrophy. We need not forget the KAs who were involved in ROTC: Mark Harris, Sherb Sentell, and Rufus Timberlake, as they were not only in service to Davidson, but to the whole country.

Socially, KA also led the way as Bryan Counts coordinated a rigorous social calendar. From Physical Graffiti to Old South, not forgetting the Barn Dance and all the Late Nights, Brother-of-the-year Byro made sure that fun was had by all. KA made a great impact on the athletic world as well, as Varsity soccer, wrestling, football, tennis, golf, basketball, and Lub lacrosse all contained KA team members.

Finally KAs held leadership positions campus-wide, including ODK president Craig Carlock, Honor Council members, Student Solicitors and Defense Advisors, Union Board Vice-President, and Phi Beta Kappa members. One could conclude that Kappa Alpha's diversity and interest in campus activities is exemplary.

Kappa Sigma

The brothers of Delta Chapter enjoyed yet another outstanding year on Patterson Court. While maintaining its strong brotherhood, Kappa Sigma accepted thirty-five new members and became the largest fraternity at Davidson. A unique social calendar and unequalled service commitment helped Kappa Sigma maintain a leading position in campus life. Kappa Sigmas currently occupy the offices of SGA president, SGA vice-president, senior class president, chairman of the Honor Council, and numerous other leadership positions. Delta Chapter hopes to maintain this faithful commitment to campus service in the future. All the members of Delta Chapter know that these achievements are simply manifestations of the brotherhood that each Kappa Sigma enjoys.

PAX

Co-Ed Eating Going Strong

Co-ed eating is going strong on Patterson Court. New adventures, challenges, and friends presented themselves during 1988-89. This fall PAX recruited its largest class of freshmen in two years. And what excitement there will be in the house next year! The fall and winter months found house members engaging in a rafting trip, a ski trip, and numerous parties such as the legendary (or soon to become legendary) Dueling Blenders. A springtime social highlight included a trip to Kiawah Island for some lazing in the sun and some impromptu volleyball games after dinner.

PAX expanded its goals and efforts in serving the community this year. Members joined forces with Habitat for Humanity crews from time to time. PAX also supported Jubilee House with food donations as well as with baby-sitting services on a regular basis.

In short, this year our old jokes got older and the new jokes seemed funnier ... "Has anyone seen Shoney's Big Boy?"; "Okay, now, how about a 'quick' card game?"; "Get your own material (J.T.)!"; "Bagels from where?"; "Where'd that napkin go?"; "Remember, it'll F-U-N!"

Paxites played, worked, and showed Patterson Court that Co-ed eating is a blast!

Phi Delta Theta

The N.C. Gamma chapter of Phi Delta Theta is proud to celebrate our sixtieth year as a fraternity at Davidson College. Our brothers include international students, hall counselors, and members on the Union Board. We have strong participation in club and IMAC sports such as flickerball, lacrosse, and rugby. And our IMAC B-league basketball team is legendary. Of course, we even have a few guys who play varsity football and baseball! The Phi Delt social calendar has produced a number of outrageous bashes. Our Halloween Party drew a motley crew of costumed revelers and our Air Band Party continued to be a great success, while we even got together with SAE for a rainy day Pig-Pickin'.

Academically, we rank third among Patterson Court Houses in overall GPA. And in helping the community our service projects include involvement with the Special Olympics, Davidson Town Day, and a basketball fundraiser. Davidson Phi Dels have a long-standing tradition of sportsmanship, service, and scholarship, and we play as hard as we work! Along with President Alex Jung and vice-president George Kurani, I extend to everyone in the Davidson College community an invitation to visit Phi Delta Theta.

Phi Gamma Delta, the largest off-campus fraternity, seeks to give its brothers a fulfilling Greek experience. Infamous for our annual Strawberry Fields party, Fiji hits the social scene with numerous band and theme parties. Our fall Volleyball-a-thon raises money for a local day-care center.

Our brothers share many close friendships and tight bonds. Every year Fiji finishes off school by hosting Greek Week Headball and organizing a mass exodus to the beach, our traditional Fiji Island trip.

Pi Kappa Alpha

"Let us take a new tack," suggested Cebes. "Tell us, Socrates, why is Pi Kappa Alpha the finest house on all of Patheno — I mean Patterson Court?"

"Let's see here," replied Socrates, casually sipping a cup of Matt Hatfield's famous purple punch. "Tell me, what is the ideal Davison man?"

"He is a student."

"Correct! He is indeed a student, recognized by Phi Beta Kappa and by the myriad of awards and scholarships accumulated by the likes of Sammy C. and Flip and Robert VanLozas and Brad "Book-smarts" Nixon. What else is the Davison man?"

"He is an athlete."

"Exactly! He's a huge basketball star — like Drago, Schmitt, and Magilla, a rocket-armed baseball pitcher — like Willy or Wanz or Azo, an IMAC indoor soccer champion — like Duke Boyz, a football wizard and a Hacky-sack demon. Tell me what else is this ideal man?"

"He is a leader, I think."

"Yes, Yes, he is — like Benwa, president of the PCC, like Lonesome Ward, president of the College Union. He's in the SGA, the Union Board, the Honor Council, and he is a hall counselor. What else?"

"He is a good citizen."

"Indeed, he is a fine up-standing member of the college community, actively participating in help with Habitat for Humanity, the recycling drive, projects at the Pines retirement community, and the annual Haunted House to benefit the North Meck YMCA. And he always picks up after himself, and votes on election day."

"But Socrates," interrupted Cebes, "you still have not told me why Pika is the finest on the court."

"Have we not agreed upon the qualities of the ideal Davison man?"

"Yes."

"You will find him at number one, Patterson Court — where Seventies parties, THE Beach Party, Peacemeal shows, and raging impromptu rock the campus; where beautiful women boldly rock the night away; where everyone is always welcome — no matter which jersey is worn. This is why Pi Kappa Alpha is the finest house on Patterson Court."

Rusk

... Service And Seven-Layer Bars

Rusk House celebrated its twelfth year at Davidson College by doing what Rusk does best. Seven layer bars, fajitas, and salads kept the Husky Ruskies happy thanks to Peggy and Lela. Policeman's Brawl, Brights Lights-Big City, Heaven and Hell, and a wonderful senior formal filled the calendars of the Rusk socialites. Rusk not only bought a cow for needy families through the Helper Project, but also added several new service projects including Habitat for Humanity, Adult Literacy, projects with the Pines, and an AIDS project. These are in addition to our established projects like recycling, community little sisters, and helping at the Daycare center. There's something for everyone at Rusk, and with eighty-four new faces, diversity remains our best asset. The good times keep getting better — here's to Rusk!

— Lisa Howe

The pride of Rusk's Service Projects is our community Little Sister Program. Julie McCory and her little sister hang out together at Rusk.

Seniors are often forced to make difficult career decisions. Allie Baldwin auditioned to be a truck driver with the help two lovelies from Ham and Eggs, Juniors Mary Beal and Rita Rhame.

Pika and Rusk strengthened their diplomatic ties this December when Pika graciously offered the use of their house on Self-Selection Night. The next day, Cackie Walters, Mel Fox, Ben Cardwell, and Lisa Howe celebrated this alliance at house clean up.

Karen Dailey, 1988 Homecoming Queen, maintains that the key to her famous beauty is keg beer.

SAE once again managed to fill the year with a combination of active service to the community and an extremely lively social calendar. Under the leadership of Mike Cowan and Bob Davidson, SAE aided in building a playground for DCPC and became the first fraternity to participate in the National Learn-to-Read program by tutoring in Charlotte. Traditional service projects such as the Can O' Food party and calendar sales benefitting the library's endowed book fund also continued to be a great success. SAEs held prominent positions throughout the campus including those of hall counselors, Union Board and Honor Council members, and the president and vice-president of the SGA.

Social chairmen Hamp Oliver, Bruce Nofsinger, and Charlie Handler coordinated an extensive social agenda. SAE and Rusk hosted the Reggae FAC, the freshmen's first event on Patterson Court. The winter saw Casino Party take on a new look as it moved to the Charlotte Motor Speedway Club, and spring events included the Senior Dance/ Toga Party. Throughout the year late nites and band parties abounded, and SAE continued its good relations up the hill by hosting spring and fall faculty cocktail parties. The year would not be complete, however, without a special thanks going to Dr. Park for all the things he does, noticed and unnoticed, for the brothers of SAE.

Spencer

1988-1989 proved another whirlwind year for the fun-loving women of Spencer House. School books and professor's dirty looks went unheeded as Spencerites flocked to the Patterson Court commune for Moonbathing, Nightclub, Christmas tree-trimming, White Nights and the herba-ceous Tiki. Self-Selection and Boxer Bash welcomed our fan-tastic freshwomen into the group with champagne sprays, midnight scavenger hunts, and cartoon-decorated shorts, while the faculty socials brought students and profes-sors together in a relaxed, out-of-class setting. Spring Formal saw couples headed for the beautiful Lake Lure to enjoy a weekend of boating, hiking, sight-seeing, and, of course, dancing.

Socializing was not the only outlet for Spencer energies, though, for the house contin-ued its tradition of service to college and community. The Big Sister/ Little Sister Program, Habitat for Humanity, birthday parties at the Pines, beautification of I-77, Dance-a-thon with Kappa Sig for Cystic Fibrosis, and our ever-popular cookie study breaks for our Central American foster child directed the efforts of many to-ward helping others.

With Fannie and Mabel in the kitchen, Spencer held up its reputation for serving some of the Court's finest cuisine. La-sagna, Mabel Rolls, and home-made Oreo ice cream got members to every meal and kept guests begging for more.

Certainly these days have been worthy of the Spencer name.

Warner Hall

Characterized by energy and involvement, the women of Warner Hall participated throughout the campus this year in a variety of activities. Our members have served on the Union Board, performed on stage, played on the varsity teams and have been representatives in the SGA.

Our energy originates with our wonderful twin cooks, Louise and Lucille, and their gourmet delights. With them whipping up everything from Brie Croissants to Fajita Bars, from better-than-sex cakes to passion potatoes, our parents can rest assured that we are well fed.

After attending to our academic endeavors, Warner Hall women always find time for service and social events. Our service activities include singing at Huntersville, Jubilee House, hosting Barnyard Bash, and Christmas caroling at the Pines. Favorite social events are Steak and Date, Friday Afternoon Clubs, ice-skating, formal and Patio Party. Without a doubt, our best party was Self-Selection, when we celebrated our forty-nine new members with a champagne shower and the Warner Hall. Finally, we want to express our gratitude and love to our Seniors who have been a vital part of our house and will be missed by all.

SPORTS

Davidson athletics came to the end of one era and the beginning of another. Johnston Gym contained its last intercollegiate basketball game and the football program moved to Division III. Basketball coach Bobby Hussey and Athletic Director Kit Morris resigned. But although controversy surrounded many athletic decisions, a note of optimism prevailed. Davidson watched in awe as the new sports complex took shape, saw women's sports gain new ground with the creation of a women's soccer team, and thrilled to the news that former basketball coach and alum Terry Holland will soon become athletic director.

Football — Rough, Tough and Tackling!

"We don't think of this as the end of an era but as a new beginning."

Davidson's 1988 football team improved significantly, but the Wildcats too often were the victims of heartbreaking defeats. The Wildcats closed the season Nov. 12 with a 38-13 loss to Lafayette which dropped Davidson's record to 0-10.

The offensive leaders on this year's team were Peter Hughes, Mike Wright, and Horace Hamm. Hughes had 1,077 yards total offense on the season and threw for two touchdowns. Despite his freshman standing, Wright supplied the Wildcats with needed scoring power. Wright replaced injured Terry Hines at tailback and rushed for 307 yards on 83 attempts and led the team in scoring with five touchdowns and 30 points while starting only five games.

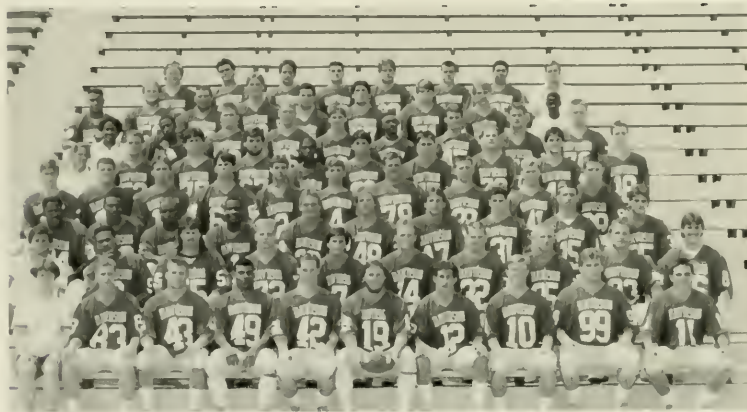

Another bright spot was the late but quick development of quarterback Nick Crawford. Crawford, a freshman from Kingsport, Tenn., completed 10 passes against East Tennessee State for a total of 147 yards. Against Lafayette, Crawford completed six of 15 passes for 73 yards. Horace Hamm hauled in 23 passes for 359 yards and two touchdowns. Hamm was among the Colonial League leaders in all purpose yardage, returning 28 kickoffs for 582 yards.

The 1988 football banquet was conducted Nov. 13 at the Charlotte Motor Speedway Club. At the banquet, junior tackle Rogers was named the W. Lewis McColgan Most Valuable defensive player for the second straight year. Sophomore guard Chris Woods received the McColgan Award as the team's most valuable offensive player. Freshman Mike Wright and Frank Watson were selected as the team's most outstanding newcomers.

Field Hockey — Scooping up the Competition

The Davidson Field Hockey program continued its trend of strong improvement during the past season. Under the expert direction of coach Betsy Pryor, the team has, over the past three years, begun to shake loose the difficulties that have plagued the program previously. The team improved its record from last year's 3-10 to 6-8, and with freshmen and sophomores filling seven out of eleven starting positions, this upward trend should persist next year.

The team had a strong start with a 1-0 victory over long-time rival Pfeiffer College. After a few initial victories, however, the team's confidence sagged, and Davidson suffered a string of losses. Coach Pryor attributed these defeats to a lack of mental toughness born of the team's overall youth and inexperience.

"The Davidson Field Hockey program continued its trend of strong improvement during this past season..."

The players recovered their aggressiveness in time to finish the season with a series of wins and to make a strong showing at the Deep South Tournament. Davidson sent eight of its players on to the southeastern competition (more than almost any other team in the conference), and one freshman player, Francesca Fierro, went on to compete at the National tournament in California.

The Davidson hockey team, characterized by its speed and technical skill, played with aggressiveness and determination, and despite a mid-season slump, proved itself surprisingly tenacious. The character and commitment of the team members also made them an undoubted asset to the Davidson athletics program.

Soccer — A Kick in the Grass!

Entering the 1988 fall season, Davidson's soccer team was optimistic that it would equal or better its 1987 number nine ranking in the southern region. However, injuries to starters Tracy Hankins, Bruce Nofsinger, Robert Avinger, and Scott Poisson all within the first two weeks of the season prevented the Wildcats from reaching their expectations. A roller coaster season that saw them play very well at times and poorly at others ended in an 8-12-2 record.

olina. The win marked the first time a Davidson team had beaten a NCAA Division I semifinalist since the 1960s. The Wildcats prevailed 1-0 through a strong team defensive game and a goal from senior Curtis Ott. Freshman goal keeper Doug Long recorded the shutout in his first college game as a starter.

Davidson seniors Frank Bricio, David Foote, Mike Friedlander, and Curtis Ott all played well to finish their Davidson soccer careers.

The offence was led by forwards Peter Cobb, Neco daSilva, and midfielder Rob Vest. Vest was named the MVP, and Bricio received the Coach's Award.

Sharp Shooters

Although the 88-89 Davidson Wildcat basketball season did not yield the number and type of victories that Johnston Gym fans had become accustomed to, there were some exciting moments as the young Wildcats showed great promise for the future.

The cats dressed only one senior, Captain Bill Sellers, and six freshmen. In fact, five of the six freshmen received varsity letters and starting posts at some time during the season. The final record of 7 wins and 24 losses is indicative of the problems that the team faced in terms of experience.

The team was led in scoring by freshman standout Bruce Elder, who received post-season honors from several publications as one of the top freshmen in the nation. Junior Alan Hunter provided stable and at times spectacular leadership at the point guard position. Junior Jay Schmitt was the team's most consistent rebounder as well as leading the team in field goal percentage.

The 88-89 season marked the end of two different eras for Davidson College. The first was the end of the relationship of Davidson with head coach Bobby Hussey. Hussey inherited a team which had gone 11 seasons without a winner and turned the program into the successful one which it remains today.

With over a hundred career wins at Davidson, Hussey took the team to numerous Southern Conference championship games including one Championship and a berth in the 1986 NCAA Southeast Regional.

The second era which ended this season is that of Johnston Gym. The home of the Wildcats for forty years will be replaced in '89 by the new Belk Gymnasium. Against the University of Central Florida in February a huge celebration marked the end of inter-collegiate basketball in the old gym. The Cats rose to the occasion and defeated UCF, as the last basket to be scored in the gym came from a Sellers' slam with only seconds remaining in the game.

Cross Country — Over the River and Through the Woods

The 1988 men's cross-country team, with two lettermen returning and a slew of freshmen, constructed the framework for future successful seasons. Freshmen thrust into the unfamiliar roles of collegiate varsity runners against schools such as Duke, Wake Forest and Furman responded well to the challenges that the competition presented during the season.

Senior captain Bob Cornish successfully completed his final season despite a lingering back injury. Junior Jay "Fridge" Clugston provided consistency to the team and also had a rewarding running season. Freshmen Joe Parvis, Will Farr, Ted Richardson, and Chris Otrok ran inspired races throughout the season. Upper division finishes at the West Georgia and Winthrop Invationals are merely signals of the team's future successes.

The women's cross-country team was totally revamped from before. None of the six women had prior collegiate experience, but their hard work and dedication led to exceptional performances at several meets. Sophomore Katie Reynolds and freshman Kathy Beach are surely names to be reckoned with in future. Also notable was the performance of senior Jane Price, who managed to divide her time between playing tennis and running cross-country.

The good times and comraderie of the cross-country team will continue to make it one of the most entertaining teams at Davidson College.

Track and Field — Stretch, Throw, Run and Go!

The 1989 track team ended the season with pride in the accomplishments of the year and anticipation of the seasons to come. Only three team members will be lost to graduation this year between the men's and women's teams. Graduating are Larry Ray, two time captain Bob Cornish, and Maureen Harris the record holder in the women's outdoor shotput. All three of these team members have put in hard working years of dedication to the team and will be sadly missed next season.

The highlights of the year included record setting performance by Kathy Beach (11:30.7, indoor 3000m), Anissa Patton (07.75, indoor 55m), and Eric Kirch (52.30m, new rules javelin). Also among the season's bright points were the Spring Break trip to St. George Island, impressive performances by all runners at the Furman Invitational, practices led by David P-Crew Petranick, and an eating contest that proved distance runner have appetites as big as football players!

Next year will see the return of strong freshman squads from both the men's and women's teams. With the resurfacing of the track appearing likely in the next two years, the future looks bright of Davidson track.

The 1988 edition of the Davidson volleyball team, led by second year coach Rebecca Hawkins, compiled a record of 26-14, a complete turn-around from the previous year's 5-23 record. The team saw consistent play from veterans Lavetta Dawkins, captain Maria Douglas, Peg Tietgen, Ellen Ott, and Molly Graver.

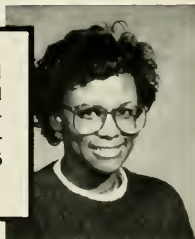

Freshman recruits added to the talent of the Wildcats. Freshman starters were setter Holt Hathaway and hitter Mimi Plauche. Christy Knight, Virginia Edington, and Catherine Robb also saw some playing time.

The Volleyball team set a record for the longest winning streak for Davidson women's teams with 13 victories. The team's biggest win was over UNCC. The match took two and a half hours to play, with the Wildcats winning the first two, dropping the next two and taking the last game to win the match.

Wrestling — Taking Down the Competition

Injuries and inexperience plagued coach Tom Oddo's 1988-89 Davidson wrestling team. The squad returned in October with a young but hopeful line-up led by senior captain Sherb Sentell (150 pound weight class) and sophomores Joe Binns (142), and Dylan Glenn (134). These three were the only wrestlers with any prior collegiate wrestling experience. Though young, the team showed potential from junior transfers Peter Buss (126) and Wade Heinrichs (158). Additional strength came from sophomore Thomas Lane (190) and freshmen Chris Clark (167) and Craig Wall (176). Mid season saw the arrival of juniors Andy Cooke (176) and sophomore Eric "Flea" Farmer (Hwt).

Although a young team, the Davidson squad maintained its competitiveness against larger schools. In tournaments, individual wrestlers recorded impressive results. Glenn placed second in both the Collegiate and Cambell invitationals. In the same Campbell tournament, Lane also claimed second place and Wall fourth. Likewise, Binns took third in the Washington and Lee Invitational in which the Davidson team placed ninth.

But, injuries soon descended upon the squad and left few wrestlers unscathed.

Consequently, the team focused on individual performances for the rest of the season. Captain Joe Binns led the remaining wrestlers with tremendous persistence and results. Peter Buss wrestled consistently throughout the year despite a sore shoulder. Chris Clark quickly gained experience as he compiled his collegiate record. Although small against his heavyweight opponents, Flea Farmer possessed an intense fighting spirit.

With only one senior graduating and new recruits coming in, the wrestling squad looks to an improved future in the new wrestling room and a new conference.

Season 12-27

Home Runs, Fastballs, and Slides — Baseball

What promised to be a banner year for the 1989 Davidson baseball team can be summed up in one word: rain! The 'Cats were rained out fifteen of the first sixteen games en route to having twenty-three games lost to weather over the spring. The rain combined with the fact that five starting regulars and one starting pitcher were lost for varying lengths of time to injuries, made for a season in which the Cats struggled ... The struggle was especially tough after having four consecutive twenty win seasons.

The year, however, was not without its bright spots. The 1990 'Cats will have six returning starters and only have lost two pitchers from this season's ten man staff. Among the returning pitchers are Jim Stanfill, Derek Twombly, Brad Wazenburg, and Greg Wilcox. Leading hitters that will return include Mikio Aoki, Joe

The leadership and pitching of Jeff Loser and the bats of Mike Holland and Mark

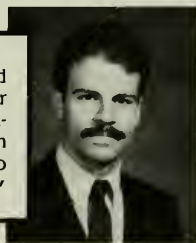

Weir will be sorely missed. However, the youngsters who provided much needed depth this season should fill the gaps well. The Cats of 1990 will play another very difficult independent schedule including national powers Miami of Florida, Clemson, Georgia Tech, North Carolina, and N.C. State. Also on the proposed schedule are regional rivals UNCC and Appalachian State. Don't be surprised if, weather permitting, the winning ways of the past four seasons return.

Sailing

The sailing team, a low profile sport at Davidson, enjoyed an active and successful year. The student — organized team utilized the college's Lake Campus facilities, practicing on Lake Norman twice a week. The team also ran races in Sun-fish every Friday during the season. As a member of the Northern Division of the South Atlantic Inter-Collegiate Sailing Association, the team competed in five regattas during the fall season and seven in the spring. Team members traveled on week-ends to sail either on the waters of Lake

Hartwell at Clemson, or the Ashley River in Charleston.

Highlights of the year include participation in the district regatta in the spring, and the fielding of a women's team for the first time in over five years. While the team will suffer a loss with the graduation of senior members, sophomore and junior

Ace the Opposition

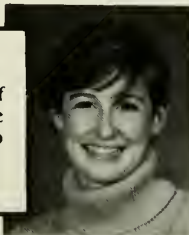

The women's tennis team began the 1988-89 season with different hopes and expectations than those in previous years. For the first time we were in no conference and had no tournament to work toward as our final goal. The team set new goals for itself as individuals and as a team and worked consistently throughout the season to achieve them. The highlight of the year was the spring break trip to Hawaii. The team enjoyed a wonderful week of fun and tennis in the sun.

With six seniors graduating, next year will bring more changes once again. A

Serving up the points — Men's Tennis

The overall match score against Harvard was tied at four all. Once again the final outcome would be decided by the last doubles match still in progress. It was five all in the third set, and the Wildcats' Tim Hagood and Blake O'Brien had just fought off two matchpoints. They held Hagood's Trojan serve successfully to go up 6-5 and broke their opponents serve to win their match and the overall match for Davidson.

This was only one of many close matches faced during this year's tennis season. The final season record of 19-10 came as a surprise of most of us, since this year's Wildcat team was very young and inexperienced. Four of last year's starters had graduated and Coach Frank had recruited six new players. The team was led by the senior co-captains Sebastian Koch and Blake O'Brien, playing in the number one and two position respectively. Sebastian Koch finished his season with a sizzling 31-7 record and kept up the Davidson tradition of winning the number one singles flight at the Washington and Lee Tournament in the fall and Holiday Inn Classic, which marked the end of the spring season. Consistent performance throughout the season was shown by Tim Hagood, playing number three singels, and by freshman Joey Manibo playing number six singels. Charles Jordan, playing his first year at number five singels contributed by winning crucial victories over Washington and Lee and Virginia Tech.

What lies ahead for next year? Although the two co-captains will have graduated, the team remains confident. The general optimism for next year's season is best expressed by the inspired words of Elijah Gowin when he says: "I can't see us lose too many times."

What's New?

People

New faces filled many of the offices at Davidson. Filling the newly created position of Davidson Outdoors Adviser Gerald Hutchinson joined the staff of the Union, and over in Chambers Stone Bynum joined the Dean of Students office. The faculty departments at Davidson welcomed many new members with a marked increase in the number of women professors. The faculty and administration faced complex situations including the football controversy and an ambitious endowment drive, and prepared to face the challenges that these and other changes will surely bring.

What's New?

Classes

Students adapted reasonably well to the semester system, although the end of the term became a procrastinator's worst nightmare. Due to changes in the male/female ratio Fourth Floor Cannon became an additional hall for freshmen women. Everyone breathed a sigh of relief when the new dorms opened. The marked changes received mixed reviews. Semesters were viewed with ambivalence, and students mourned the demise of perimeter housing while enjoying the comforts of the new apartments.

Norton's Barbershop is still a favorite place for Davidson men to get their hair cut. "Potteryhead" has its own special niche in Davidson along, photo by Ted Richardson.

What's New?

Ads and Index

The Davidson/Cornelius/Lake Norman area exploded with a virtual plethora of restaurants and shopping facilities. Students could now gorge themselves at Kentucky Fried, Woody's, Beauregard's, or, for the more upscale, Lizzie's on the Lake. Eat-fests could be followed by a trip to either of two video stores for that couch potato experience, and further munchies could be obtained at the new improved Food Lion or the spiffy sparkly Harris Teeter. The Davidson populace did not, however, forsake its old hangouts, and the B & B continued to be THE place for Sunday lunch.

Jeff Batten:

To the Mighty Casey, Jr., who is Batten 1.000 at our house and in our hearts.

We love you
 Dad, Mom, David, and Beth

Eric Bach

Congratulations Boonie! To you and the rest of the Gilligan Island crew we send our love and best wishes.

Mom, Dad Bach and Family

In '85 you entered Davidson College
 In order to gain insight and knowledge
 You traveled to Paris, Beaufort, and Maine
 Had many experiences, none in vain.
 You studied literature, culture, and fishes,
 Now, "Go into the world with our good wishes."

Congratulations, Sloan
 Love, Mom, Dad, John, and all the critters

BRETT BERRY

We hope your success and happiness continues to be as full and long as your hair.

Love,
 Mom, Dad, and Amy

Dear Mike,

"The highest reward for a person's toil is not what they get for it, but what they become by it." You have become a truly remarkable person with unlimited potential. Your father would be extremely proud of you, as are we.

We love you,
Mom and Susan

The little girl we all called Charie
Has made us proud parents today:
She's worked hard — to study, to party, to ski
With nary an unhappy Davidson day.
Her dad used to call her his "shrimp"
But because of her accomplishments we know
Charlotte, as she once in her childish talk said,
Is "no simp"!

Laurie,
You have truly been the delight of our lives. We are so proud of you.
Our love and support will always be with you.

Congratulations
Mama and Daddy

Good Work, Craig!

Love Mom, Dad, and Jason

Question:

If it takes a yard and a half of tripe to make an elephant's undershirt, how far does a cranberry have to fall to split a shingle?

Answer:

No matter how stormy the night, remember she is still your mother.

Dear Kara,

"Kevin's creative, Kathy's smart, Kelly's pretty and I'm a boy." Now you've graduated, Dit. We Love You.

Mom and Dad

Jeff Koenig: Look to this day!
For it is life, the very life of life.
— from Sanskrit prayer

Learn to be wise and develop good judgement and common sense. Cling to wisdom — she will protect you. Love her — she will guard you.

— Proverbs 4:5-6

Congratulations! We love you!

— Mom, Dad and Mark

Liza Lahr:

Whether it's addressed to Peanut, Princess, Petunia, Pookie or just plain Liza Beth, we congratulate you on your four years of achievement at Davidson, and wish you the very best. We're very proud and we love you very much.

Mom and Dad

GOOD LUCK TO THE CLASS OF '89
MAY THE FORCE BE WITH YOU!

Bob, Ruth & Josh Force

New Banking Power For You.

We're fast. Convenient.
Uncomplicated. And with more personal banking power than you've ever had before.

Congratulations

May the Lord bless you
And keep you,
The Lord make his face
To shine upon you
And be gracious unto you.
The Lord lift up His Countenance upon you
And give you peace . . .

ALL OUR LOVE,
Mom, Dad & Chris

Congratulations to a Great Pair

To Taylor:

And oh! the dreams — the dreams I dreamed!
When I was a boy, a little boy!
For the grace that through the lattice streamed
Over my folded eyelids seemed
To have the gift of prophecy,
And to bring me glimpses of times to be
When manhood's clarion seemed to call —
Ah! that was the sweetest dream of all,
When I was a boy, a little boy!

— Eugene Field

Love,
Mom and Dad

YOU DID US PROUD
ERIN — SAMANTHA!

MAY YOUR FOUR YEARS
ALWAYS BE THE HAPPIEST OF MEMORIES.

LOVE YOU,
MOM & DAD

Lisa Stewart:
 More than the world
 am I bursting with pride!

"Marmie"

for our daughter Susan H. Montgomery:

Though many her accomplishments be She'll treasure her Davidson degree
 Her parents will boast
 And shout "She's the Most!"
 Good Luck Susan Montgomery

Dear Curtis,

We're very proud of you and your accomplishments.

Love,
Mother and Dad

TO THE CLASS OF '89
from Mr. and Mrs. David J. Rochford, Jr.

We hope that, like good young mariners in a quiet harbor,
You trimmed your sails at Davidson to catch the freshening breeze that blows on a sea of uncharted, yet imagined possibilities.

Bon Voyage, Class of '89.
Thank you, Davidson College.

Character is nurtured midst
the tempests of the world. —
Goethe
